

Forecast 5: Sage Winforecast is dead!

Quite often we hear "If it's not broken, why fix it?". But do you say that about your car? Or do you service your car to get more benefit out of it? Of course, you look after your car.

Then why are you not looking after your most valuable data?

Sage Winforecast was deemed 'End of Life' by Sage since 1998, became obsolete since 2013 and with no support since 2014. This means that with the constantly evolving technology industry, Sage Winforecast is not supported to work on Windows 7 or 8, let alone Windows 10. You may also find you are running into issues with Hotlinks using Office 2010, 2013, and Office 365. The list of issues goes on and will continue to grow each year with new releases, patches and threats that Sage Winforecast developers had no foresight to see would happen.

Don't get caught out with Sage Winforecast and risk losing your data completely! Make the move to a more secure future with Forecast 5.
